

Dance at the Plessanton.

Quite a smart little affair was the dance at the Plessanton on Thursday night. Kat's orchestra, which had played previously during the dinner hour, changed to merry rag-time tunes, the gay charm of which was irresistible to the staldest old sober-side. The pretty hotel was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, even the trees and foliage twinkling with little white bulbs to match the real stars overhead. Palms, hanging baskets and bowls of cut flowers were used as decoration. A number of winners preceded the dance, which itself was a factor to insure delightful informality. Capt. E. K. Massee was host at a beautiful dinner for eleven. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Glade entertained at their usual hospitable way. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. de Bretteville gave a charming dinner. Mr. Deogry was host for six guests. George Ahlborn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayselden and Mr. Albert Clark, being among others to entertain in an informal way before joining the dancers. The broad lands of the Plessanton were indeed delightful for dancing. A cool breeze from Mance valley made the evening incomparable. Among the hundred or more guests present were noticed Capt. and Mrs. E. K. Massee, Capt. and Mrs. Birch O. Mahaffey, Maj. A. S. Conklin, Capt. and Mrs. R. Lister, Capt. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Sorenson, Miss Anna Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Moller, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mrs. Alice Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hedemane, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. de Bretteville, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayselden, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Colley, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Glade, Miss Glade, Miss Esther Kopke, Miss Bessie the Kopke, Mr. Dougherty, Mr. E. N. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Campbell, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. William Williams, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall, Mr. George Ahlborn, Mr. Albert Clark, Miss Betty Case, Miss Nora Mercer, Miss Hazel Auld, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kopke, Lieut. W. M. Rose, Lieut. G. Halloran, Miss Helen Alexander, Maj. and Mrs. D. E. Case, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mr. H. E. Hoffman, Miss Mary O'Brien, Miss Nora Swansy, Miss Marjory Reuth, Miss Blanche Sobor, Miss Ruth Sobor, Lieut.

Dance at the Plessanton.

Quite a smart little affair was the dance at the Plessanton on Thursday night. Kat's orchestra, which had played previously during the dinner hour, changed to merry rag-time tunes, the gay charm of which was irresistible to the staldest old sober-side. The pretty hotel was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, even the trees and foliage twinkling with little white bulbs to match the real stars overhead. Palms, hanging baskets and bowls of cut flowers were used as decoration. A number of winners preceded the dance, which itself was a factor to insure delightful informality. Capt. E. K. Massee was host at a beautiful dinner for eleven. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Glade entertained at their usual hospitable way. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. de Bretteville gave a charming dinner. Mr. Deogry was host for six guests. George Ahlborn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayselden and Mr. Albert Clark, being among others to entertain in an informal way before joining the dancers. The broad lands of the Plessanton were indeed delightful for dancing. A cool breeze from Mance valley made the evening incomparable. Among the hundred or more guests present were noticed Capt. and Mrs. E. K. Massee, Capt. and Mrs. Birch O. Mahaffey, Maj. A. S. Conklin, Capt. and Mrs. R. Lister, Capt. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Sorenson, Miss Anna Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Moller, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mrs. Alice Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hedemane, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. de Bretteville, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayselden, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Colley, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Glade, Miss Glade, Miss Esther Kopke, Miss Bessie the Kopke, Mr. Dougherty, Mr. E. N. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Campbell, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. William Williams, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall, Mr. George Ahlborn, Mr. Albert Clark, Miss Betty Case, Miss Nora Mercer, Miss Hazel Auld, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kopke, Lieut. W. M. Rose, Lieut. G. Halloran, Miss Helen Alexander, Maj. and Mrs. D. E. Case, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mr. H. E. Hoffman, Miss Mary O'Brien, Miss Nora Swansy, Miss Marjory Reuth, Miss Blanche Sobor, Miss Ruth Sobor, Lieut.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier's anniversary dinner.
Miss Sara Pratt's luncheon.
Mrs. Harold Hayselden's dinner.
Mrs. Jordan's bridge tea.
Maul Reading Club.
Miss Laura Atherton's bridge tea.
Mrs. Hayselden's tennis tea.
Pleasanton dance.
Mrs. Bierbach's bridge.
Miss Anderson's luncheon.
Major and Mrs. Myers' dinner.
Mrs. Owens' bridge tea.
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pettitville's dinner.
Mrs. McCandless' luncheon.
Mrs. Watson's tea.
Capt. Massee's dinner.
Fort Ruger Bridge Club.
Poi supper for Prince and Princess Kalanian'aoale.
Capt. and Mrs. Lister's dinner.
Dinner on board the Ringgold.
Luncheon on board the Thetis.

Miss Anderson's Luncheon.
Miss Carrie McLean has been at unusually feted young lady and her many friends desiring to extend pre-nuptial hospitality to the little bride-to-be. Miss Ruth Anderson, who will be one of the bridesmaids at Miss McLean's wedding on Tuesday, entertained the bridal party at a luncheon yesterday at the Rathskellar. The table was charmingly decorated with sweet peas and violets. Those who made up the party were Miss Carrie McLean, Miss Helen McLean, Miss Sara Pratt, Miss Laura Atherton and the hostess, Miss Ruth Anderson.

The last of the summer visitors arrived reluctantly but surely leaving town much to everyone's regret. This week's gaieties have been a record of farewell parties and affairs both formal and otherwise for departing guests. One of the largest of these was the one given yesterday by Mrs. E. M. Watson at Walkitt in honor of her sisters, the Misses Christiansa and Genevieve Bradley, who have been in her household for the past four months. This was one of the largest of the many functions given for the charming young girls who sail for their home in Virginia on the Wilhelmina next week. Ferns and palms were arranged artistically all over the parlors and drawing rooms interspersed with great bowls of Americana and Beauty roses. Anxious Mrs. Watson was Mrs. Ed Dekum, who presided over the tea table, and Mrs. Clintina Ballentyne, who poured punch. Mrs. Watson was attractively gowned in cream colored marquisette caught here and there with pink rosebuds. Miss Genevieve Bradley wore charming frock of rose colored chambray, the draperies caught over her shoulders. Miss Christiansa Bradley wore a gown in delicate pink charmeuse

The platform for the Venetian Carnival is already being erected on the lagoon. The Japanese workmen being obliged to wear bathing suits at their work. Other plans are being perfected slowly but surely. The masque is already under considerable attention on the part of the committees in charge. Attractive posters made by Mrs. Arthur MacIntosh and Mrs. James Wilder are already being shown at Wall and Dougherty's. Wichman's, the Promotion Committee rooms, is being decorated for the occasion. There will be sold on the night of the carnival, along with a number of beautiful flowers, and novelties at the flower booth.

The "Masque of Mirth" will be the most balanced performance, comprising seven different dances. There will be more of the royal, Spanish type of dances in these dances, and have entered into the preparation with a spirit of enthusiasm which itself ensures success. A general ball will follow the performance, must be being furnished by a military band.

trimmed with cream colored shadow lace and rhinestones.

Mrs. Dekum wore a handsome dress of pearl gray brocade with touches of cerise. A large gray hat with a dashing cigarette finished the costume.

Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne was in black with a large black picture hat. The toilettes of many of the guests were unusually handsome, going far toward proving the assertion that Honolulu has outgrown the lingerie dress. Among those invited to meet the Misses Bradley were Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mrs. Tenney Peck, Mrs. William Wooten, Mrs. M. M. Macomber, Mrs. F. B. McStocker, Miss Lydia McStocker, Miss Lydia McStocker, Mrs. Gus Schmidt, Mrs. A. G. Hawes Jr., Mrs. E. E. Paxton, Mrs. E. E. Thompson, Mrs. A. Hocking, Miss Florence Hockman, Mrs. S. B. Doia, Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Mrs. H. Giffard, Mrs. F. B. Damon, Mrs. J. B. Bentlers, Mrs. W. H. Rabbit, Miss Anna Danford, Mrs. William Stacey, Mrs. J. E. O'Hara, Mrs. Norris Stayton, Mrs. J. F. Myers, Mrs. George Beckley, Mrs. Z. K. Myers, Miss Irene Dickson, Miss Mary O'Brien, Miss May Marshall, Miss Nellie Marshall, Mrs. J. F. Gauda, Mrs. D. Appel, Mrs. J. A. McCandless, Mrs. L. L. McCandless, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. Edward Dekum, Mrs. Arthur Hodgins, Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne, Mrs. A. N. Locke, Mrs. P. M. Reed, Miss Constance Reed, Miss Sarah Lucas, Mrs. C. B. High, Mrs. G. Thompson, Mrs. J. A. Balch, Mrs. J. L. Coke, Miss Victoria Jordan, Miss Margaret Jordan, Mrs. Royal Mead, Mrs. Harold Haveland, Mrs. E. E. Haveland, Harold Castle, Mrs. C. Hedemann, Mrs.

Edward Timberlake, Mrs. Guld, Mrs. R. Hochly, Mrs. H. P. Butler, Mrs. Florence Butler, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Matheson, Mrs. W. Moore, Miss Beatrice Campbell, A. Murphy, Miss Thelma Murphy, Mrs. Harvey Murray, Miss Alice Connel, Miss Louise Glead, Miss Louise Lucas and others.

* * *

Mrs. J. Maxam returned home the Wilhelmnia after placing her daughter Hazel in a finishing school. Miss Hazel, who was one of Professor Bode's most advanced pupils, is under the instruction of Prof. Hugo Mann. Her return will be welcomed as an addition to the local musical talent of Honolulu.

(Additional Society on Page 14.)

Additional Society on Page 14).

Begins Monday Morning, October 6, at 8 o'clock

CLOTHING in sizes for everybody, right up to the minute for style, nothing newer procureable. Some of the stock has just arrived, but whether we have had it a day, a month or longer it is on Special Sale. The tickets show the ordinary price and the Sale price in RED. The biggest stock of Women's Ready-to-Wear Apparel ever offered at a Clearing Sale in this city.

It would take more space than we can afford to buy in this paper were we to particularize each item. But amongst much more on offer will be found the following:

- 172 Linen and Ratine Dresses
67 Lingerie Dresses
195 House Dresses
38 Evening Gowns
62 Silk Dresses
31 Woolen Dresses

- 42 Linen and Ratine Suits
38 Tailored Suits
26 White Serge Suits
47 Evening Cloaks and Wraps
37 Black Satin Coats
52 Rain Coats

- 63 Street Coats
25 Matelasse Coats
36 White and Colored Serge Coats
39 Steamer Coats
55 Linen Auto Dusters
60 Juvenile Coats

Together with our Entire Stock of Walking Skirts, etc.

Ladies, Our Advice Is---Come to this Sale

Monday, First Day

No Goods Sent on Approval
---No Exchanges

Time Charges on All Alterations

JORDAN'S